To Israel Washburn, Jr. Esquire, one of the Justices of the Peace in and for the county of Penobscot.

THE Subscriber, of Orono, in said County, one of the owners of the Mills situated on the Babcock & Bennock dam (so called) on the Stillwater river in said Orono, and of the said dam, being the upper dam at Stillwater village, requests you to issue a warrant to him, owner as aforesaid, directing him to call a meeting of the owners of said mills and dam to be held at the office of I. Washburn, Jr. in said Orono, on Monday the fourth day of September next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, for the following object, to wit: to take measures to repair the said dam, the same being necessary to the working of said mills, the undersigned being of opinion that it is necessary that the same should be repaired.

A. W. BABCOCK.
Orono, August 8, 1843.

STATE OF MAINE.

PENOBSCOT, ss. To Asa W. Babcock of Orono in said County, one of the owners of the mills on the Babcock & Bennock Dam, being the upper dam at Stillwater village, and one of the owners of said dam.

WHEREAS the foregoing application has been made to me, one of the Justices of the Peace in and for said County, requesting me to issue a warrant to you, one of the owners of said mills and dams, directing you to call a meeting of the owners of said mills and dams, for the following object, to wit: to take measures to repair said dam (the same being necessary to the working of said mills); you are hereby required to notify and warn a meeting of said owners, according to law, to be held at the office of I. Washburn, Jr. in said Orono, on the 4th day of September, A. D. 1843, for the object aforesaid. And have there this warrant with your doings therein. Dated at Orono aforesaid the eighth day of August, A. D. 1843.

ISRAEL WASHBURN, Jr.
Justice of Peace.

Pursuant to the foregoing warrant to me directed, I do hereby notify the owners of the Mills and Dams mentioned in the foregoing application and warrants to meet at the time and place and for the object specified therein.

HIGHLY ESTEEMED MEDICINES.

FOSTER'S EGYPTIAN BALM OF LIFE.

OR NATURE'S GRAND AND GENIAL AUXILIARY. A SPECIFIC for Consumption, Great Bodily Debility, Old and firmly Rooted Coughs, Flatulency, Indigestion and Bilious Disorders, Constipation and Diarrhea, Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections and Female Complaints.

The Egyptian Balm of Life being an invaluable Family Medicine, should not be neglected in the Spring and Fall by any member of a family, as a Grand Auxiliary to the efforts of nature, in throwing off superfluous humors, generated in the winter and summer months; thus preventing as well as otherwise curing the above distressing maladies, and giving a healthy tone and proper action to all the grand operations of the system.

This Medicine has long sustained an unrivalled character for excellence in the private practice of many eminent practitioners in Europe, yet remaining at the same time undivided in the possession of the individual of whom it has been purchased.

It is now exerting a salutary influence on this side of the Atlantic, and it is recommended to those who may be laboring under any of the diseases for which it is designed as a specific, and also as a preventive of disease, on its first appearance.

For a more particular description of the above medicine we would refer to the envelope accompanying each bottle.

Many valuable certificates might be produced of the benefit received therefrom. Hundreds in the State of Maine, as well as in other States, can testify to its superior efficacy, but the proprietor is willing for the public to judge for themselves by trial. A few names however, are referred to in the envelope accompanying each bottle.

Foster's Celebrated Nerve Ointment.
For the cure of Sprains, Bruises, Cramp, Rheumatism, Contracted Muscles, Sore Throat, Stiff Neck, Pain in the Breast, Back or Joints, Throat Distemper, the Piles, &c.

The general testimony concerning this Ointment, from those who have proved its merits, is, that it is too valuable a medicine to be neglected. And indeed we might fill a book of an hundred pages in giving incidents of its happy effects on the suffering.

N. B. The above Medicines are prepared only by W. A. Greenough, Portsmouth, N. H., and sold wholesale and retail by him.

Also, sold wholesale and retail by G. W. LADD, Bangor; sold also by Eld. C. Rigby & J. Knowlton, Newburg; Winthrop Frost, Lincoln; S. Lang, Palmyra; H. G. O. Washburn & Co. Belfast; Gilmore & Clifford, Prospect; Luther Mudgett, North Prospect; Robert Treat and J. B. Chick, Frankfort; Arcy & Nourse, Hampden; Richardson & Kennedy, Old Town; E. P. Butler & Co. Orono.

Dr. D. Jayne's FAMILY MEDICINES.

JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT.

THIS invaluable medicine is daily effecting some of the most astonishing and wonderful cures that have ever been known. All who have used it for Asthma, Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Whooping Cough, Croup or Hives, Consumption, Chronic Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Pain and Soreness of the Breast, Difficulty of Breathing, and every other disease of the LUNGS and BREAST, can and do attest to its usefulness. BRONCHITIS, a disease which is annually sweeping thousands upon thousands to a premature grave, under the mistaken name of CONSUMPTION, is always cured by it. The usual symptoms of the disease, Cough, Sore Throat, Spasmodic of the Lungs or Throat, Hoarseness, Difficulty of Breathing, Asthma, Hæmic Fever, a Spitting up of Phlegm or Matter, and sometimes Blood. It is an inflammation of the fine skin which lines the inside of the whole of the wind tubes or air vessels, which run through every part of the Lungs. The Expectorant immediately suppresses the Cough, Pain, Inflammation, Fever and Difficulty of Breathing, and produces a free and easy expectoration, and a cure is soon effected.

It always cures ASTHMA. Two or three large doses will cure the CROUP, or HIVES of children, in from 15 minutes to an hour's time. It immediately subdues the violence of HOOPING COUGH, and effects a speedy cure. Hundreds who have been given up by their physicians as incurable with CONSUMPTION, have been restored to perfect health by it.

If this Expectorant be given in the commencement of PLEURISY, INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS, or in acute RHEUMATISM, in doses sufficiently large, so as to cause a little nausea for some time, going to bed and covering up warm, it will produce perspiration, and subdue these affections at once.

PRICE $1.00.

Tonic Vermifuge.

WORMS IN CHILDREN. Of all diseases to which children are exposed, none are so fatal to them as WORMS. Unfortunately, children are seldom free from them, and as they imitate the symptoms of almost every other complaint, they often produce alarming effects without being suspected. They are not only a cause of disease themselves, but by their irritation aggravate all other diseases, rendering from one part of the body to another, winding themselves up into large balls, and obstructing the bowels, and frequently the throat, causing convulsions, and too often death. The desired remedy will be found in Dr. JAYNE'S TONIC VERMIFUGE, which will very soon destroy the worms, and invigorate the powers of digestion so as to prevent a return of them. PRICE 50 cents.

JAYNE'S CARMINATIVE BALSAM.

This is one of the most efficient, pleasant and safe compositions ever offered to the public, for the cure of the various derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, and the only article worthy of the least confidence for curing CHOLERA, INFANTUM or SUMMER COMPLAINT; and in the above and following diseases, it really acts like a charm, viz:

Dysentery, Diarrhoea or Looseness, Cholera, Morbus, Summer Complaint, Cholera, Griping Pain, Sour Stomach, Sick and Nervous Headache, Heartburn, Water-brash, Pain or Sickness of the Stomach, Vomiting, Spitting up of food after eating, and also where it passes through the body unchanged; Want of Appetite, Restlessness and Inability to Sleep, friendship, and the more anxious I was to recover it, and at length time revealed to me the nature of the want. I had rank to command for me every attention, wealth to purchase me every amusement, friends from whom I received every substantial kindness, but the ever-present and sympathizing tenderness of one of your sex was what I needed to secure my happiness.

Without that I felt that to me every thing would be doubly dark, that I would be doubly desolate.
And in you, dear Lucette, was to me, comprehended your whole sex. I pictured you as having perfected all your early promise; as being all that was gentle, patient, affectionate and true, of heart; all that was graceful, sound, rational and healthful, in mind; all that would be valuable in a companion, all that would be loveable in a wife. Many were named to me who might have given me their hand on my darkened path, and who were called fair and good, but what to me were personal charms, when I could perceive beauty in the immaterial alone; and how, except through others, was I to test the character of a woman? My uncle's death set me at liberty to follow the impulses of my heart, and my guiding point was our dear old village. I did not find you there, but soon one part of my mission was accomplished. I heard your name ever mentioned with praises sweeter to me than fairy music. Your winning home virtues, your untiring benevolence, your piety, your intellectual powers, were a grateful theme to all, and hearing that you were coming higher, I turned my course, secure from my opportunities of introduction to society, that I could discover you before long.
"But now, dear Lucette—I tremble while I ask it—what have I to hope? do not withdraw your hand—you know I used to read your thoughts through it—you are too good, too compassionate, to send me again with my loneliness into the world!—surely to no one could your sympathy be so precious, by no one could your gentle offices be so much needed!—let me not be mistaken, dearest Lucette—promise that you will be as light to my eyes, as sunshine to my heart!"
Again he passed his fingers over her face, and felt that there were tears on her cheeks. He had an instinct that they were no tears of sadness, and he dried them in his bosom.
A tap at the door was followed by the entrance of Doctor Wyckoff. "I have won her, my best friend, my father!" exclaimed Ernest in a tone of rapture: "the companion you gave me to make my childhood happy, is to be my blessing through life!"
The Doctor caught his extended hand joyfully, and clasped Lucette in his arms with the fondness of a parent.
Wealth and rank are marvelous beautifiers—at least so it appears in the instance of our heroine. Much as Mrs De Ford, in her various fashionable progresses with her two single daughters, talks about their sister, "the Countess of Lindenthal," describing her arrivals and departures in and from America, her travels in this country, and her estates in that, she is never known to allude to her as "ugly Lucette."

See, now, how Culture's hand, By Art's directing power, Subdues and fills the land With treasures for each hour; Till mind all matter shall control,
And elevate the human soul.
Bear,—bear the conquest round Of Art's sublimest sway, Till earth and sea abound,
And richest tribute pay With leaves and fruits in aching form, The prayer to raise—the heart to warm.
Bear,—bear the triumph round, An offering meet to heaven, Till souls of men are found To reap the harvest given,
Of love and peace and holiness—Till man his brother seeks to bless.
Now,—now may truth and love On all our hearts descend, And blessings from above Their holy influence lend, Till all shall be baptised in grace, And God in every heart have place.
Sound,—sound his praise again,
For hopes immortal given;
He gave the power to men To make this earth a heaven.
Great God! make all our works like thine, And help us make our hearts thy shrine.
An address was delivered by James R. Macomber, a member of the association. It was a chaste, well written, and well delivered address and such as confers the highest credit upon the author.
The following Hymn, written by the wife of a member, was sung by the choir.
Almighty Architect divine!
Thou who with cunning hand didst frame The glorious heavens that o'er us shine, And spread for us earth's fair domain The cheerful sons of labor, we Come from our varied tasks once more,
To bow our grateful hearts to Thee,
And thy protection, still, implore.
We thank thee that in kindly cheer,
And festive joy, we meet again;
Grant to the band assembled here, A zealous heart and noble aim.
Freedom from toil, we crave it not,—
The busy hand and willing mind, Shall in their heaven appointed lot, Employ, and sweet contentment find.
Inspire our hearts with charity Towards every suffering child of woe,— Where'er there breathes humanity, May we a brother seek to know.
Thy blessing on our means impart, That we thy glorious truths may see,— Till every toiling son of Art Shall know himself, and trust in Thee!
PRAYER.
ANTHEM.
BENEDICTION.
The singing was performed in the highest style of the art and gave great satisfaction.
The members of the association, with their wives and female friends proceeded from the Church to the Mechanics' Hall, where an abundant and elegant dinner was spread for them by Mr. Nathaniel Goodhue.
After partaking of the good things provided for them, the following toasts were read by Isaac S. Whitman.
REGULAR TOASTS.
Our National Government. The workmanship of intelligent freemen after a long apprenticeship. It is wisely built upon the firm foundation of the intelligence and moral power of the people, and well designed to secure liberty to its citizens, and to afford its protection to the labor and to aid in giving its just reward to the laborers of the country. The perpetuity of its blessings demand the correction of all the evils that are connected with its organization.
The Fisheries. Prolific nurseries for supplying hardy seamen for our Navy. The ample means of maintenance to freemen and the sources of wealth to the nation drawn from banks chartered by the highest authority, and whose emissions cannot be successfully counterfeited.
Our government rightfully extends to them the encouragement of a bounty.
Agriculture. The first great art given to man and in which the first of men in all ages have been engaged. May the great family of arts contribute to its advancement and the servants of the public give it an earnest and substantial encouragement.
Manufactures. One of the great elements in national greatness and personal independence.
Their encouragement by a free people is a sure evidence of their intelligence, and a wise protection of manufactures by a government, the best evidence of its regard for the welfare of the governed.
Commerce. The active agent of communication between all the productive professions, in all quarters of the globe. Its mission is to give energy to productive labor, by exchanges; and to light up the dark corners of society by spreading intelligence. It should be cherished as an equalizer of the condition of mankind.
The Sciences. The superstructures of wisdom built up with separate facts from the inexhaustible quarries of truth. May they cherish the mechanic arts as the most useful and important of their offspring.
The Arts. The effective instruments by which the mind of man controls the elements of matter and causes them to labor at his bidding. The true Genii of Aladdin's Lamp. May they be increased in number and enlarged in their boundaries until they shall be the only slaves tolerated upon earth.
Labor. A wise necessity laid upon mankind for the full development and enjoyment of all his faculties. May physical and mental labor be so unitedly pursued as to produce their greatest perfection and happiest work upon the whole family of man.
Our State. Rich in natural resources, which by private enterprise are rapidly being developed. If her public men were sufficiently solicitous for her improvement she would be what she deserves to be, the Main State of the United States.
Education.—The true leveller of human condition as it works by the elevating process—May all the great movements in society have regard to its extension and all institutions for its promotion be suitably encouraged and generously sustained.
The State Conventions of Mechanics. Way marks in the road of progress towards the true elevation of the toiling masses, may they be continued in perennial freshness and give an annual impetus to self education.
Mechanic Associations.—The machinery of combination, in order to produce the greatest individual benefit. The more numerous and vigorous they become the wider spread will be the interest of education, the more intense will be the effort of self-education and the greater will be the equality in the condition of society.

The Women.—First among the productive classes. The protectors of infancy, the comforters of manhood, the supporters of old age and the soothers of the dying pillow. May they be loved and honored at home and partake with men in all social delights. We yield them our hearts as willing offerings.
The company were addressed by the President, Henry Call, John S. Sayward, A. R.
Hallowell, Col. M. Ray, F. Muzzy and several others.
A large number of volunteer toasts were given a few only, of which we have been able to collect and have subjoined.
VOLUNTEER TOASTS.
By O S Beale.—The Bangor Mechanic Association: May its Festivals be celebrated by, and its blessings descend upon our children's children to the latest generation.
By A. R. Hallowell.—Manufacturing and Agricultural interest: One and indissoluble.
By James R. Macomber.—Mechanic Associations,—lenses by which the scattered rays of genius and intellect are brought to a focus,— crucibles wherein the metal is separated from the dross: May they never be broken by a fall or melted down in the furnace of discord, but continue to shine and burn until the world be comes illumined by their powers, and partly inseparably blended with their name.
By Mrs. Beale.—Our Daughters: May it be their good fortune to sustain the same relation to the Mechanic Association that is so well enjoyed by their mothers.
By Benjn. Norton.—The Mechanics and Washingtonians of Bangor: May they stand true to their brotherhood, as the Magnetic Needle to the North.
By a Lady.—May the Single be married, and the married happy.
By G. W. Merrill.—Science and Knowledge: May their march be onward, and universally promoted for the benefit of mankind.
By A. Leighton.—The Mechanics of Maine: May they ever aim at knowledge and virtue, and obtain wisdom and honor.
By Elijah Low, jr.—The day we celebrate: If this is the 15th round in our Ladder what must the top one be.
By J. W. Willard.—Mechanics and Artists, male and female: While man hews, carves and moulds every device under Heaven, of Granite, Wood and Marble for ornaments of Earth—Woman, in the domestic,—her legitimate and nobler workshop, moulds, forms and fashions human souls for ornaments of immortality.
By Isaac S. Whitman.—The Orator of the Day: A successful Chemist in the Physical World—he has this day, proved himself as successful in the intellectual world.
By Col. W. H. Mills.—The Mechanics' of Bangor: In the glorious march of mind and intellect, in which you are engaged, and as the mind soars aloft in pursuit of knowledge, and ascends from one lofty eminence to another, and another—may you not stop short of a full knowledge of that God, whose attributes are love and good will to man—and when religion is of that softening influence upon the human heart, that without it, man falls far short of his original destiny.
By Miss Caroline E. Q. Norton.—The Mechanic Library—the pride of the Association and the safe guardian of the apprentices, if they but well act their part.
The company separated in fine spirits after having enjoyed a social entertainment, that will long be remembered with pleasure.
The glorious result of the great pitched battle between the two political parties of the country, which has lately taken place in Tennessee, has had an astonishing effect in reawakening and re-invigorating the Whigs of those States in which the elections are yet to take place; and we shall witness this effect, we have no doubt, in the results of the approaching elections. We hope, almost against hope, to see the Whigs of Maine moving with their friends in other States.
We learn that Hon. Gorham Parks of this city has received his commission from John Tyler as U. S. District Attorney for Maine. Go ahead Judas and carry your work onward and build high the monument of your infamy. Mr.
Parks may be pleased with the treachery that gives him an office of value, while in his heart he cannot but despise the traitor.
The Portland American states that the Whigs are at work secretly and stir its party up with a long pole to meet them at the polls.— We wish this was the case for we should be glad to hear that they were, in truth, at work any way, secretly or openly. We wish they might work with a zeal becoming the excellence of their cause.
Repeal Meeting.
It will be seen on referring to a card in our columns that the champions in Maine of Irish Repeal, Messrs. O'Reilly and Devine of Augusta will be present this evening and address the Repealers at the City Hall. These men thoroughly understand the subject and are, moreover, witty and eloquent.
At the request of several friends we republish the Ode and Hymn sung at the Mechanic Festival yesterday.
We shall publish an extra number of our paper to-day to accommodate those who wish to preserve an account of the Festival.
The Charter Oak arrived at an early hour yesterday forenoon. Gillman & Co's Express brought us New York and Boston papers. We also received Boston papers by Jerome's Express.
The Saco Democrat states that one of the fishing schooners from the bay of Chaleux, arrived at Kennebec last week, with loss of the Captain, Eli Hutchens, and three of the crew, viz: Joseph Wildes, Jr., Eli Hutchens, Jr. and John Hutchens, all of Kennebecport. No further particulars given.
We are very happy to learn that Lt. Stevens of the Engineers, arrived at Bucksport yesterday, to make the survey, purchases, &c for the fortification at the Narrows on the river.— We are glad that the Government seem to be determined to move decisively in this very important work.

It will be seen on referring to our advertising columns that there has been a new arrangement effected by those interested in the steam communication between this city and Portland, by which the fare has been fixed at two dollars to Portland and three dollars to Boston, giving passengers the option either to take the cars at Portland or to proceed in the boat.— Our readers will be pleased to learn that the large and commodious Charter Oak under the command of Capt. Howes, has been retained upon this route.
The elegant steamer Huntress will ply between Portland and the Kennebec in connection with the rail-road.
John Q. Adams was present at the Commencement exercises at Cambridge. He was in excellent health, and received a great deal of attention.
Shipwreck.
Brig Charles Thomas Cushing, from Bath for Barbadoes, with a cargo of lumber, was swamped during the furious gale on George's Bank, on the 20th inst. The crew were taken from the wreck by the schooner Lucinda, from East Machias, for New London, and arrived at Boston on Saturday, in the Elizabeth, of Plymouth. They were three days on the wreck, and suffered much from want of water.
Extraordinary Robbery of the Millbury Bank.
On Tuesday the 15th inst, two packages of $17,000 each in bills on the Millbury Bank in this city, and chartered to their account of deposits.
On Monday, a large quantity of the Millbury bills came to the Suffolk Bank, so as to exceed the deposits of the former in the latter; and the Millbury Bank was accordingly notified to redeem the balance. The directors of the latter, deeming it impossible that any great quantity of their circulation could come into the market, did not take immediate measures for such a contingency.
But as the bills did continue to flow into the market more rapidly than was thought consonant with the safety of the Bank, the Suffolk refused longer to redeem them, and notice was accordingly given to that effect in the papers of this morning.
Yesterday afternoon an express was sent up to Millbury in order to ascertain the cause of the Bank being dishonored. The cashier said it was impossible that the bills could have got into the market to the extent named; and the first movement was to examine the two $17,000 packages which still lay untouched in the vault of the Bank.
One of these packages contained what it purported to contain namely, $17,000 in good bills; but from the other, the whole $17,000 had been ingeniously extracted, and brown paper, with the ends nicely cut off, substituted in place of the money!
We do not learn whether suspicion rests upon any one as the perpetrator of this ingenious robbery; but we should not think it difficult to trace the packages through all the hands by which they were conveyed from Boston to Millbury.
The Bank is perfectly safe, and the bills will all be redeemed.—[Boston Mail.

Fifth Triennial Festival of the Bangor Mechanic Association.

This festival was observed in this city yesterday. The members of the association with their families and many of our citizens assembled at the Union Street Brick church in the forenoon.
Mr. Gould presided, with great skill, at the organ in a prelude of great beauty, to an Anthem sung by the choir of the church.
Rev. Mr. Chaplin of the Baptist church addressed the throne of grace.
The following Ode, written for the occasion, by John S. Sayward a member of the association, was sung:
Wake,—wake a thrilling song
To Him whose word gave birth To life's unnumbered throng, And built the rock-ribbed earth, With Wisdom, Beauty, Strength and Might,
And gave his crowning blessing—Light.
Mark, mark the new-made ground, When man's first vision woke On Nature's secrets around; Ere Wisdom's voice had spoke,
Or in the cheering lamp of Art,
To light his way and lift his heart.
